Jessica - I thought it was from the Port response, but it actually came from another source. We are conducting further research that we would be happy to share when complete, but here is the link to the original source that we found.

Hi Kristine, thanks again for offering to provide me with the reference that you are basing the linkage of samples in RM 16 to a possible historic shipyard. I am very curious, because this is the first time I've heard of this historic shipyard.

Thanks again for your time today. I hope you have a safe trip back up to Seattle.

Jessica.
